The Following Incident

Took place in Richmond less than thirty days ago: A man was sick and thought he was going to die. He sent or his financial adviser, who is one of the big real estate men of the city, and asked him to write his will and agree to act as the Executor.

The point of this advertisement is found in the reply of the real estate man. In substance, he said: "I will write your will, and while I highly appreciate your confidence in me, I advise that you appoint the VIRGINIA TRUST COMPANY as Executor. That is what I have done, and I believe it is best for you to do."

The advice was followed.

Relieving Distress.

Twenty-five cases of extreme want have been relieved during the past few days by the King's Daughters of South Richmond. The committee which has this work in hand. Mrs. L. H. Bemis, Mrs. Charles Burkert and Mrs. R. H. Richardson, have worked hard and faithfuils. The duties have caused them to be out in the worst of the bad weather of the past few days, but they have answered every case called to their attention. The committee will be gratified if all who have promised funds to the good work will please remit premptly, as they are greatly handicapped by lack of money. The King's Daughters is nonsectarian, and is the only organized charitable body on the gouthside. They are aided solely by contributions. PETERSBURG PEANUT MARKET.

All Julis Are Und.

Clearly wrong conditions also surround the julis of the State, in the opinion of Dr. Flannagan, who has visited the best and also the worst "All of them," he says, "sre open to the same fundamental objections—in inadequate air space, inadequate bothing facilities, crowding, fifth, vernila and disease. Men and boys are indiscriminately herded together with no single item of higher incentive offered toward leading them to better and more useful lives.

"More modern julis would, of course, help the situation, but from the sanitarian's and sociologist's point of view the system which permits men and hoys to be confined in ideness, without sunlight or sufficient fresh air or bodily cleanliness, should be changed radically.

"Every prisoner should be examined any shealth, and occlosed the same of any shealth, and continued to say, itall

"Every prisoner should be examined physically upon entrance to any jall in the Commonwealth, and, if diseased, should be isolated and treated until he is cured. He should be stripped and bathed and his clothing fumigated. He should be provided with a clean prison sult until his clothes can be cleansed. Work in the open air should be provided for even short-term prisoners, this being the best way to preserve bodily as well as mental and moral health."

Protect Water Supplies.

Commissioner Williams suggests the enactment of a law giving the State Board of Health general oversight and care of all inland waters and of all straums and ponds used by any community or public institution, or by any water or ice company, and of all tributary springs and streams. The board would be empowered to make rules and regulations to prevent the pollution and secure the sanitary protection of all such waters as are used for sources of public water supplies or the manufacture of ice. member of which marvelled that they were alive to tell the tale.

The Torry had been assigned to secout at a distance of about 200 miles to the northeast of New York in the war game manouvres and was somewhere off Cape Sable, on the Nova Scotia coast, when the storm struck her late Saturday. For forty-eight hours the little craft was almost at the mercy of the seas. The wind blew a hurricane, washing clean the decks of the destroyer and carrying away not only every lifeboat, but heavy boxes contain tools, etc., which were fastened to the decks.
